SEA OF OKINAWA ATTRACTS DIVERS FROM AROUND THE WORLD

The moment you dive, you forget your breathing and time stands still.
The ocean is a treasure trove of beautiful lives.

APPEALS OF OKINAWAN SEAS

Okinawa comprises 160 islands, 49 of which are inhabited. It sits between the East China Sea and the Pacific Ocean, in the path of the Kuroshio, the world's largest warm current. Well connected by air and sea, the various islands are also easily accessible. Okinawa is endowed with an abundant natural environment fostered by the warm, subtropical climate. With its own unique history and culture, many visitors come to enjoy East Asia's biggest resort island.

One of the greatest attractions of Okinawa is the sea!
Among professional divers, it's known as one location that everybody wants to visit, and there are many attractive dive points dotted around the islands.
The Blue Cave, which even beginners can enjoy, is very popular.
The Kerama Shoto National Park boasts outstanding translucence, with visibility up to 40 or 50m.
The appeal of the Miyako area lies in its caves bathed in beautiful blue light and its dynamic topography.
In the Yaeyama Islands, known as one of the best places in the world for manta rays, there is a mysterious giant stone structure at Yonaguni Island.
In an endlessly transparent sea, coral reefs shimmer in the sunlight and shoals of subtropical fish play. Elegant manta rays appear before your eyes, large migratory fish visit, and you may be lucky enough to encounter hammerheads and even whale sharks.

In the winter, migrating humpback whales visit Okinawa's life-giving seas.
Seawater temperatures are around 28°C in summer, and a warm 21°C even in winter.
From families with children to professional divers, the resort island seas of Okinawa can be enjoyed year-round.

Ruins Point (Yonaguni Island Offshore)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 25m CURRENT Occasionally strong

Yonaguni Island South Offshore, there's an enormous stone structure, about 290m long from north to south. With massive stone stairs and a stone relief in the shape of a tortoise, this huge structure is a mystery — Nobody knows if it's man-made or natural.

The seas of the Kerama Islands are unrivalled anywhere in the world for their amazing translucence. Known as the sea that all the world loves, it attracts divers from around the world. It has everything that divers want — topography, coral, quantities of every kind of fish, and translucent water. This popular area is visited by many divers year-round.

Located 40km west of Naha, the Kerama Islands comprise some 20 large and small islands, including Tokashiki Island, Zamami Island, and Aka Island.

With outstandingly clear water, an underwater world spreads out in all directions with visibility up to several dozen meters.

This beautiful sea is known as “Kerama blue”. Endowed with an abundant habitat of fish and coral, humpback whales visit to breed from December to March when you can enjoy whale watching.

From the shore to the deep sea there are a variety of ecosystems, and the beautiful natural scenery is valued highly. On March 5 (Coral Day) 2014, it was designated as Kerama Shoto National Park.

1 North of Kuba (Kuba Island: Uninhabited island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

Sweepers, luminous cardinalfish and oriental butterflyfish shoal among bright red Melithaea flabellifera, in a world just like the Dragon King's castle.

At this drift diving point you can enjoy a maze-like topography of arches and crevasses.

2 Urunosachi

MAXIMUM DEPTH 20m CURRENT Calm

At this relaxing spot, shoals of Blue green chromis and amethyst anthias flit among colonies of colorful branch coral that grow like a forest.

Coral Spawning, Mesmerizing Mystery of Life

The spawning of precious corals can be seen on only a few nights of the year! During early summer between May and June, on the night of before and after full moon, the corals begin spawning all at once as if by signal.

The instant when new life is born presents a moving and mysterious scene. The Kerama Islands are known as the home of coral. There are many points such as Aharen Beach and Aka Island Offshore where you can experience a fantastic undersea world in night dives!

3 Ijakaja

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasionally

This is the place in the Kerama Islands where divers most likely to encounter manta rays. This is a cleaning point for rays, and you can watch them hovering while fish clean them, as well as watching them feed. Summer tides are the best time to see manta rays.

4 Undersea Desert

MAXIMUM DEPTH 20m CURRENT Calm

At this popular point, the pure white sandy floor spreads out as far as the eye can see like a desert.

The sparkling light of the sun and ripples of the surface kindle the sandy floor in this fantastic, expansive blue world.

5 Uminchu (Fisher man)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 25m CURRENT Occasionally strong

Various living creatures gather in these blocks of fish reef sunk on the sea floor. This is a great point for encountering lots of fish.

6 Kamigusuku (East of Tokashiki Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 35m CURRENT Occasional

Melithaea flabellifera grow in colonies on a rock pierced by a hole, and longfin batfish and sea goldie shoal around it. It presents a fantastic, beautiful scene like the Dragon King's castle.

7 Paraiso (Mae Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 35m CURRENT Occasionally strong

Cute garden eels poke their faces from the pure white sandy floor. Whitetip reef sharks can be seen in the gaps under rocks, and you can sometimes enjoy encountering black spotted ray.

8 Gina (Aka Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 25m CURRENT Calm

This point has a sandy floor and coral, and many signs of fish. There's a good chance of encountering green turtles and hawksbill turtles. If you come across turtles sleeping or eating, just watch them quietly without disturbing them.

9 Hanari Island

This uninhabited island is located about 1km from Aharen Beach on Tokashiki Island. You can get there by boat, and there are also sea kayak and banana boat tours. With very translucent water and tropical fish even in the shallows, this point is ideal for snorkeling with small children.

OKINAWA MAIN ISLAND

Naha, the gateway to Okinawa, is located in Okinawa main Island.
Diving spots are dotted along the west coast,
and there's great diving on the outlying islands with their exotic topography.
There are many dive spots that are accessible from the beach, which is perfect for beginners.

4 Komaka Island

MAXIMUM DEPTH 15m CURRENT Calm

This uninhabited island, about 800m around, sits on its own in the Pacific Ocean. Brightly colored tropical fish swim right up to the water's edge by the coral sand beach, and you can enjoy swimming, diving and snorkeling.

5 Kamiyama South Labyrinth (Chibishi Islands)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 20m CURRENT Calm

Kamiyama Island is one of the three uninhabited islands of Naha Offshore that make up Chibishi Islands. It's a popular uninhabited island where even beginners can enjoy topographical locations. There are many crevasses and caves in the sea forming a labyrinth, hence its name.

6 Cape Fudenzaki (Aguni Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 40m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

This point is famous for the bigeye trevally that visit from April to July in huge dynamic schools. There are also shoals of dogtooth tuna, and if you're lucky, you may even encounter hammerhead sharks and whale sharks!

7 Tonbara (Kume Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 40m CURRENT Occasional

If you dive at any point around the huge rock on the sea floor, you can see giant trevally, dogtooth tuna and other migratory fish, and whitetip reef sharks at about 40m. If you're lucky, you may even encounter hammerhead sharks and whale sharks!

8 Imazuni (Kume Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasional

At this popular spot you can see large, dynamic schools of bigeye trevally year round, and in summer there's a high probability of encountering schools of migratory fish such as barracuda, dogtooth tuna and giant trevally. Access is good — it's about five minutes by boat from the port. You can enjoy an undulating topography of holes, drop offs, and crevasses.

9 Minna Island Cable (Northern Okinawa Main Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasional

This little crescent-shaped island is found among the coral reefs around the Motobu Peninsula in Northern Okinawa Main Island. The water is very clear and full of garden eels and colorful tropical fish. The coral that grow in colonies on the reefs in the shallows are some of the best in Okinawa.

10 Cape Kyan Underlight (Itoman)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasional

There are several crevasses formed when the coral reef developed, and you can enjoy the topography and the panorama of coral.

11 Sesoko Island Labyrinth (Northern Okinawa Main Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 12m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

Sesoko Island in Motobu Town, Okinawa, has several crevasses running through the reef, and this point resembles a huge labyrinth of tunnels and caves. Enjoy the beautiful and ever-changing scenery produced by the natural light penetrating the labyrinth.

Two islands born from upheaval of coral, with unspoilt natural charm

Yabiji In summer you can dive around Miyako Island's premier coral reefs

1 Cape Shiratorizaki

MAXIMUM DEPTH 35m CURRENT Gentle

The north side of Irabu Island is a great spot for leisurely fish watching. Schools of madder seaperch swim around the rocks and you can also see leaf scorpionfish and candy crab. It's also easy to find pink anemonefish which live among the sea anemones.

2 Demon King's Palace

MAXIMUM DEPTH 27m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

Dive lights are required. The entrance at a depth of about 20m leads into complex, maze-like topography that presents a mysterious scene. The beam of light descending straight down from the ceiling creates a solemn atmosphere as if the Demon King is right there. There are fissures here and there, creating a beautiful curtain of light.

3 Kijaka Paradise (Yabiji)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 20m CURRENT Calm

The colorful coral grows so thickly here it's like a forest, and there's no rock left uncovered. Gorgeous red bass flit among the coral. The water is very clear, and this point is recommended for beginner divers and for snorkeling.

4 Ichinose Hole

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasional

Of Miyako Island's many topographical points, this is one of the largest in scale. With a water depth of about 30m, this spot is quite deep, but the fantastic blue light pouring through the hole in the roof of the space is beautiful, and the large shoals of pygmy sweepers that flit glinting through the cave present an unforgettable scene!!

5 Rock Beauty

MAXIMUM DEPTH 13m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

A sandy point with colonies of coral. Cute garden eels poke their faces out of the sandy floor, and there are many colorful pearl-spot chromis and sweepers around the coral, making this a great spot for fish watching.

6 W Arch

MAXIMUM DEPTH 18m CURRENT Calm

At this topographical spot, you can enjoy large and small arches at the reef edge. If you look straight up from below at the large arch, it appears heart-shaped. It's popular with female divers. The water is shallow, so it's a great place to try cave diving for the first time. Many types of fish swim beyond the arch including red bass and lionfish.

7 Mini Toriike

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasional

In this unique topography, a land-based pool is joined at the bottom to the sea. The popular spot on Shimoji Island. The tunnel at a depth of about 10m leads to a pool. When you raise your head out of the water, the blue sky leans down to meet you.

Toriike Pond

8 Babenoya

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

The topography of the large overhang is impressive, and the feather stars in front of the rock add color. In winter you can also see manta rays!

9 Antoni Gaudi

Sea goldie and luminous cardinalfish flit around the red wrightella tongaensis and soft coral, creating a scene reminiscent of the Dragon King's castle.

5 Sakieda Big Arch

MAXIMUM DEPTH 17m CURRENT Calm

From July to August, shoals of luminous cardinalfish gather in this big arch. In the light that penetrates the arch, a fantastic world unfolds like the Milky Way or the aurora.

6 Yonehara W Reef East

MAXIMUM DEPTH 25m CURRENT Calm

There's a spot at Yonehara Beach Offshore with outstanding translucency and many signs of fish. The shoals of red bass and pearl-spot chromis that visit the coral reefs are beautiful, and in early spring, several dozen broadclub cuttlefish come to spawn.

7 Takana Drop (Iriomote Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

This drop off falls down 30m from a shelf at about 5m. There's a cave where the light produces a scene just like a palace. It is a relaxing spot where silver sweepers flit through the arch leading to the cave, surrounded by a fantastic space.

8 Irizaki (Yonaguni Island)

MAXIMUM DEPTH 30m CURRENT Occasionally Strong

This is one of the best places in Japan for watching swordfish, dogtooth tuna, barracuda and other large migratory fish. One of the biggest attractions of Yonaguni is the high chance of encountering hammerhead sharks. The large schools of hammerhead sharks known as "hammerhead river" are a must-see for diving fans!

9 North of Hatoma Island

MAXIMUM DEPTH 20m CURRENT Calm

There are several crevasses formed when the coral reef developed, and you can enjoy the topography and the panorama of coral. It's fascinating to see the colony receive the welcome of the dusky farmerfish.

10 Taketomi North Jagariko Reef

MAXIMUM DEPTH 12m CURRENT Calm

At a shallow water depth of about 3m, echinopora lamellosa and branch coral grow in colonies. Orange spotted filefish, popular for their polka-dot pattern, also shoal here.

SNORKELING

Tropical Fish Are Arrayed in Makishi Public Market

Makishi Public Market in Naha offers a wealth of tropical flavor. Here you can see rare fish and shellfish, shrimp and crab. You can have the foodstuffs you buy on the first floor cooked for you in the cafeteria upstairs.

Tomari Iyumachi, Naha Fishing Port

Several fresh fish shops sell fish freshly caught that day at Tomari Iyumachi. “Iyu” means fish in Okinawan dialect, and “machi” means market. You can find all sorts of colorful fish typical of Okinawa, and some stores will send them anywhere in Japan for you.

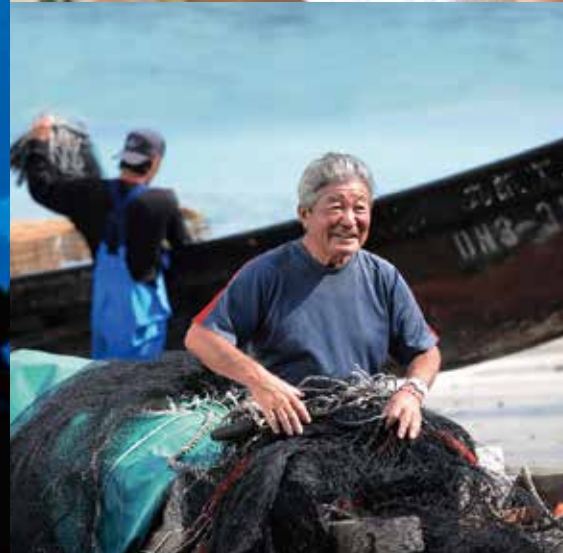

One of the Largest Aquariums in the World
OKINAWA CHURAUMI AQUARIUM

With the concept of "An encounter with the sea of Okinawa", the aquarium introduces coral reef shallows, coral reefs, the seas of the Kuroshio (Black current), the deep sea, and the creatures that live there. The highlight is the Kuroshio sea tank, one of the largest in the world! It's the world's first record of multiple whale sharks and manta rays in captivity. Here you can experience the world of Okinawa's sea in its entirety.

Ocean Expo Park   Okinawa Churaumi Aquarium

From Nirai Kanai far beyond the seas, the Gods bring abundance.
This has been the belief in Okinawa since ancient times, and people have prayed with a feeling of awe for the sea.

Today, Okinawa protects its natural environment, and welcoming visitors to enjoy leisure and sports amid the beautiful ocean scenery.
